ASHLEIGH COOTE

DEGREE: Bachelor of Commerce (Major in Accounting)
COMPLETED: 2021
GRADUATE YEAR: February 2022

WHAT INFLUENCE HAS TRAINING PROVIDED BY MOORE HAD ON YOUR CAREER?

I started as a graduate at Moore and was provided with a mentor and 17 week induction program to support the start of my career.

Having never worked at an accounting firm before, this training allowed me to become comfortable and confident in my day to day tasks.

Starting as a graduate can be daunting as you may not truly grasp what your role will require from you.

Moore provided knowledge and skill checkpoints during those 17 weeks which displayed to me what business advisory entailed from the get go. After the 17 weeks, my managers and colleagues continued to support my growth by consistently providing opportunities where I could enhance my skills.

The environment at Moore allows for graduates to progress quickly and within six months for me I became very familiar and confident in my role and was even able to have client contact.

FAVOURITE THING ABOUT YOUR ROLE TODAY?

I am now an accountant in the business advisory team after completing the graduate program.

The favourite thing about my role is being able to work in a supportive environment that understands both my personal and work needs. Work-life balance can be tricky especially starting full-time work for the first time.

At Moore, I have had chances to relax and get to know my colleagues by going to the social club events and playing in our netball team. I've also just started my CAANZ study and am able to balance study and work seamlessly with the study leave and consideration provided by the team at Moore.

TOP TIP FOR GRADS SEEKING A ROLE WITH MOORE?

My advice is to take on any jobs that are available to you – no matter how big they may seem, there is always someone to support you and lend a hand!

Asking for help and working with others on tasks you may not understand expands your knowledge rapidly. I also believe that mistakes are inevitable so making a few and learning from them is essential to growth. It is also important to take on the smaller tasks and help out the team wherever you can.
